

Coffee and Code Breakfast Volunteer

Responsibilities

- Assist in various shifts with either the setup and breakdown of the Coffee and Code Breakfast on February 7, 2017 from 7:00 AM to 8:30 AM at St. Cajetans on the Auraria Campus in Denver.
- Help to welcome and assist in the registration of guests as they enter for the event.
- Help OWL staff members as needed and help to make the breakfast go as smoothly as possible, creating a positive and memorable experience for all guests.

How it Helps OpenWorld Learning

The Coffee and Code Breakfast is one of OWL's big fundraising events throughout the year. The event is to ask potential donors to commit to a monthly giving plan for three years. These donations will help to fund OWL's school year and summer camp programming, allowing more students to benefit from the work OWL does in the community. Volunteers help to make the event run as smoothly and possible and create a memorable, positive experience for our guests.

Training and Requirements

- A background check is mandatory for all OpenWorld Learning volunteers.
- If working on registration, volunteers are required to dress in an appropriate manner for the breakfast. A button up shirt and slacks or nice jeans is preferred.
- Setup and Breakdown volunteers may dress in comfortable clothing. Some lifting may be required.
